Breaking News! Real News Accused of being "Fake News".

True News has pointed to Real News' latest article, The Sky is Pink as proof of Real News being "Fake News".

Yesterday, April 1, 2018, Real News released the article The Sky is Pink about how the sky is actually pink, and the blue is just a government cover up. This was clearly a prank article that we here at Real News put out in order to participate in the of tradition April Fools.

Despite the clear intentions of The Sky is Pink to be a humorous article, True News inexplicably decided to release their own article earlier today titled Real News, a Fake News Giant?. In the article they use our article The Sky is Pink along with some of our other prank articles from previous years as evidence of real news being a "Fake News Giant".

This is a blatant attempt to ruin our reputation as a news outlet. Out of the thousands of articles that we have released only a few have been prank articles and all of them are clearly prank articles either by their date like The Sky is Pink yesterday on April Fools or some other means. While anyone who has read our work previously this is an obvious lie, but new readers may be discouraged from looking at our work.

We are working to deal with this slander in any legal way we can, including writing this counter article. We thank our readers for their support.
